CHAIR MESSAGE

Welcome to the Independent Beer Awards aka "The Indies".

The Indies are a celebration of independent beer, the extraordinary people who have created it and the innovation in production. It aims to build a long lasting future for our industry by ensuring quality products are in the market place.

The competition is open only to Australian independent breweries and for that reason it is an ideal benchmarking tool for our brewers to measure themselves against their peers and for all of us to acknowledge and reward these artisans whose beer stands up against the best in the world.

Each year the Indies are usually celebrated as part of BrewCon and provides a fantastic opportunity for us to come together, however this year the world changed and therefore so did we.

Many of our events and activities were either postponed or cancelled due to the global pandemic and therefore like many other organisations, we have had to reinvent what we do and how we do it. So even though BrewCon was postponed to August next year the Board were super keen for the Indies to go ahead - we just needed to work out how we could do it.

Enter our amazing project group members and our innovative and committed team!

You are just about to experience the results of their hard work that involved close to 700 entries, 32 judges across hubs in Brisbane, Perth and Newcastle and a (mostly) live ceremony that includes crosses to over 40 nominees and state parties across the nation.

It never ceases to amaze me what can happen when this industry rallies, we work together like no other, so on behalf of the IBA Board I'd like send a big shout out to everyone involved, particularly our judges, project group members, and hosts - all doing this for you in their own time, for overall the betterment of the industry. You rock and we will be forever grateful.

A special thanks also goes out to the IBA team who have had to push harder than ever and watch it all happen remotely, a most frustrating exercise for a group of people who like to get their hands dirty!

I look forward to being able to share a beer with the winners in person very soon so cheers to everyone that entered and ...let's get this party started!

INDIES ADVISORY GROUP MESSAGE

The Judging panel had a solid plan, we swear! Jump in a room together, judge heaps of great beers, crown ten trophy winners and have a big party together to celebrate. That was before COVID-19 swept the globe.

Originally destined to be judged in Brisbane with a swathe of experienced and associate judges, the Indies in 2020 was targeted as being a year where quality and entry participation rose, while keeping in line with our goals of continuing to drive diversity amongst our judging crew. The upheaval of the pandemic and border closures meant we had to change our plans on the fly.

While many of the world's largest beer competitions were sadly cancelled, the IBA decided to decentralise judging for the first time, leaning on the strength of its membership base spread across the country.

Thirty one judges critiqued 696 beers from indie brewers country wide in Perth, Brisbane and Newcastle. We crowned champions and gave feedback to help nurture future trophy and medal winners.

I was particularly impressed with the rise in quality of packaged beer. The first Indies competition held in 2014 was similarly restricted to packaged product only, and I remember that there were so many tired and aged beers. Fast forward to 2020 and the quality of packaged beer has gone through the roof. This is a great compliment to the maturity of Australian independents' quality programmes and to our brewers, who give their blood, sweat and tears to make every batch better than the last.
