CEO MESSAGE

One of the highlights of the calendar for me, and I'm sure all of you out there, is the Independent Beer Awards. While this year it's later than initially planned, to be able to close out the year on an awards night is never a bad thing.

Given the chaos of the past two years, the fact we have been able to pull together the Indies through changing borders, restrictions, travel limits, and all the other challenges the pandemic has thrown at us, is testament to the hard work of the IBA team, our project groups and the entire industry.

Even more astounding is that this year was the largest we've had in terms of brewery entrants and individual beers entered which shows the strength and resilience our industry has maintained throughout this uncertain period.

Despite BrewCon being cancelled again, and us missing out on the chance to celebrate in-person together, these awards are once again a touchstone for all of us. A tangible way that proves even with the large distances between us, we can feel connected. The fact that the connection is through smaller parties, and a virtual award ceremony doesn't diminish its importance to all of us.

I would like to sincerely thank every brewery that entered their beers this. I understand it can sometimes be nerve-racking to prepare your beer to be judged, and every brewer willing to put their work up to such scrutiny should be commended.

Another massive thanks need to go to the volunteers who helped prepare, pour, and present each beer. Our judges, all 34 of them, also deserve a massive tip of the hat for judging to a high standard through changing circumstances. The guidance from the IBA Board, Indies Advisory Group and Head Judge Tina Panoutsos ensured the awards were assessed to the best international, and modern standard. And final big thanks to our Head of Events, Siobhan Kerin who with her team on the ground lead an operation changed week-to-week and day-to-day.

As we all preparing for 2022, I can't wait until we can be back together for a party that will be extra special. For now, please take a moment to read through these results, and appreciate how much work has gone into each beer, and how special it is that we have such a strong industry of indie brewers.

It's this dedication and ongoing commitment to great beer that will help our industry thrive over the coming years, and I can't wait to be part of it with all of you.

Congratulations to all our medal and trophy winners!

Kylie Lethbridge
IBA Chief Executive Officer

TECH COMMITTEE MESSAGE

It's late April and the team is full steam ahead with Indies planning for 2021. Restrictions have eased in Melbourne, COVID numbers are down and there's a vibe in the air that is just bubbling. It's looking good for gathering brewing professionals from across the country to judge what is anticipated to be a record number of entries.

Fast forward to June and the scene is a little different – Lockdown #6 hits Melbourne and throws a spanner in the works, but the show must go on. The agility, competency and proficiency demonstrated by the team just reinforced this show was not stopping and sights were set on Brisbane as the location to host the judging in August.

Fortunate to reap the rewards of the Advisory Group's ongoing goal of building the calibre and diversity of experienced and associate judges, we were able to select a strong cohort to participate in the 2021 competition. Just when we thought we had a sound plan, the ongoing restrictions and border closures extending across the nation introduced further complications and delays. Judging now had to be pushed out to September but that didn't alter the determination in ensuring we didn't allow these hurdles to stop us delivering a much anticipated competition and reward brewers for their efforts in producing some of the world's greatest beers.

Thirty four judges assessed 1389 entries, from 180 breweries spread across 97 bottles, 595 kegs and 697 cans in just under three days. Based on feedback and discussions with Table Captains, the consistent sentiment of improved quality across all categories was resounding. A true testament to the dedication, creativity and passion demonstrated by our brewing industry.

Throughout the evolving and ongoing uncertainty of 2021, we were privileged to be able to lean on a number of people from across the industry that generously stepped in and stepped up to take on more than what was required throughout the process and at the last minute. I'm continuously honoured and grateful to be part of this broad industry that reinforces the camaraderie, collaboration and genuine dedication to beer and brewing that we all share, love and are proud of.

Tina Panoutsos
Head Judge
